DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the subject matter of claim 30 (peg-like projection) must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as “amended.” If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either “Replacement Sheet” or “New Sheet” pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Objections

2. Claim 39 is objected to because of the following informalities: Claim 39 is missing a period at the end of the claim. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 20, 26, 28-29, 32-34 and 37-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Goodall '524.

In regard to claim 20, Goodall discloses a coupling (“for a spiral wire flexible hose” is considered intended use language), wherein the coupling comprising:

a ring clamp 5 configured as a clamping jaw and including at least two partial shells enclosing a sleeve of the spiral wire flexible hose, wherein the ring clamp has an inner contour having a spiral 23, 24 (“to receive a spiral wire flexible hose in a positive locking engagement” is also intended use language), wherein the hose is adapted to receive a spout 15 therein, wherein the spiral has a variable pitch (pitch of 23 is different from pitch of 24) extends up to a protrusion 14 situated at the end of the ring clamp, whereby the spout 15 is clamped such that the spout is axially immovable.

In regard to claim 26, the spiral has an essentially rectangular cross-section 12.

In regard to claim 28, the inner contour of the partial shells has concentric ridges 24.

In regard to claim 29, the inner contour of the partial shells has interspaced ridges 24.

In regard to claim 32, the partial shells have an annular groove 5 (the spout is not being positively recited in the claims, only the coupling).

Art Unit: 3679

In regard to claims 33-34, the coupling is not being claimed in combination with the spout, as claim 20 has intended use language in relation to the spout such as “a coupling for a spiral wire flexible hose” and “the hose is adapted to receive a spout therein”. The coupling of Goodall is capable of accepting a spout with an o-ring, and therefore anticipates the claim.

In regard to claim 37, the ridges 24 have a triangular cross-section (see fig. 2).

In regard to claim 38, the ridges 24 have a triangular cross-section (see fig. 2).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 22, 23-25, 27 and 30-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Goodall.

In regard to claims 22 and 24-25, Goodall does not disclose the exact material of the ring clamp and spiral. However, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to make the ring out of plastic and spiral out of a conductive material because the selection of a known material based upon its suitability for the intended use is a design consideration within the skill of the art. In re Leshin, 227 F.2d 197, 125 USPQ 416 (CCPA 1960).

In regard to claim 23, the at least two partial shells of the ring clamp are attached to each other (via 20).

In regard to claims 27 and 30-31, Goodall does not disclose the spiral includes a centrally located ridge-like protrusion or that the ridges on the inner contour of the shells are a plurality of peg like projections with a triangular cross-section. However, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to make the spiral with protrusions, or the interior ridges in the shape of peg like projections because a change in the shape of a prior art device is a design consideration within the skill of the art. In re Dailey, 357 F.2d 669, 149 USPQ 47 (CCPA 1966).

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claim 36 is allowed.

8. Claim 21, 35 and 39 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 20-39 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

10. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Art Unit: 3679
